

Geoffrey Dutton—Bio

Formerly a technical communicator and before that a software developer in academia and industry, Geoffrey Dutton has been a full-time author for the past five years after practicing creative writing for decades. Well known for his pioneering geospatial research, Geoff published 50 academic papers, articles, book chapters, and a PhD thesis on hierarchical location coding in a global grid. Over the past 18 years he has published over 400 online articles, essays, short stories, and memoirs, and several in print. His counter-cultural articles on politics and technology appear in TheTechnoskeptic Magazine and CounterPunch Magazine, and medium.com, and also posts to his websites ProgressivePilgrim.review and Perfidy.Press. His 2019 debut novel Turkey Shoot, a radical conspiracy thriller set in Greece and Turkey, received the 2019 Courage in Fiction Award from the Independent Publishers of New England. He is currently writing a sequel to it. Geoff lives in suburban Boston with his wife, daughter, and two cats. For recreation he gathers wool, cooks for his family, and picks wild mushrooms for the table, doing no harm so far.
